

Yo Bro

Practise the word list from school

An app for iPhone, iPad and Android that turns the word list from school into a few minutes of practice a day.

Scan the list from school

Take a photo, and Yo Bro reads the words on your phone.

A few minutes a day

The Today card brings back the words that are due. Set the date of the test, and those words come first.

Seven ways to practise

Test, multiple choice, learn, spelling, hints, dictation and flashcards.

Battle with your class

Same room, same Wi-Fi. Animals instead of names.

No account, no ads

Your lists stay on your phone.

Yo Bro in your class

In class, in four steps

- 1 Pupils install Yo Bro on their own phone or tablet.
- 2 Share the list: pupils photograph it, or scan the QR code on a sheet you print from Yo Bro. No accounts, no internet.
- 3 A few minutes a day with the Today card.
- 4 End a lesson with a battle: one device hosts, and up to 32 players join by QR code. Everyone needs the same network, and many school networks keep devices apart, so try yours first.

Why it helps

- Practice is spread out: words come back after 1 day, 3 days, a week, a fortnight and five weeks.
- Pupils set the date of the test, and those words come first.
- Seven ways to practise, a font for children with dyslexia, words read aloud.

Privacy

- No pupil accounts, class lists or chat.
- No advertising, no tracking.
- Lists and scores stay on the pupil's device.
- We receive no pupil data.

What it costs Free to download, with three lists, two ways of practising and the first level of every sum. More lists, the other ways of practising and levels, and hosting a battle come with a single purchase, paid once, in the App Store or Google Play. No subscription, no school licence. Joining a battle is always free.
